THE KIDNAPPERS UNDER ARREST

Man and a Woman Captured in Cleveland.

HAD $9790 IN CURRENCY

When Placed In Custody the Woman Said: "I Planned the Whole Thing, and There Will Be Hell In Sharon." Police Confident They Have the Right Parties.

Cleveland, O., March 24.—In the arrest here of a man and woman having $9790 in their possession the police believe they have captured the kidnappers of Willie Whitla. In fact the woman in the case, who is somewhat befuddled, admitted that she had been responsible for the kidnapping. When placed in custody at the central police station, she said to Captain Shattuck: "I am the one who planned the whole thing. There will be trouble for me and hell in Sharon."

Beneath the woman's skirt was found $9790. All of it but $40 was bound in packages, with the original slips placed on the money when Whitla took it from the bank still around it.

Captain Norman Shattuck and Detective Frank Wood made the arrests in the east end of the city. When near the police station the man broke away from Detective Wood and ran towards an alley. The police official fired two shots from his revolver into the air and the man stopped. The woman made no attempt to escape.

The woman appears to be well educated and is refined in manner. She says she spent fifteen years of her life in a convent in Pennsylvania, but denies that she has ever been in trouble before. Both the man and the woman deny that they know the name of each other. They admit they are not man and wife. According to the police they were intoxicated when placed in custody. Due to their condition they were not questioned closely by the police and were locked in separate cells. Captain Shattuck is said to have secured his description of the kidnappers from Willie Whitla, and this description led to the arrest.

Willie told Captain Shattuck that the woman who kept him a prisoner had smallpox scars on her face. The woman in custody has such spots on her cheeks and appears to have had smallpox. She is a tall blonde, probably twenty-five years old. She was dressed in a black silk skirt, a gray coat and black hat. The man is dark and smoothfaced.

Detectives heard that a man and woman answering the description of the kidnappers had been seen on the outskirts of the city. They came down town and bought numerous articles of clothing, tendering $5 and $10 bills in payment, it was learned. Later a report came that the people had left a package in a downtown store, which proved to consist of discarded clothing.

Captain Shattuck and Detective Ward trailed the man and woman around the business district of the city for several hours, but delayed taking them into custody. When the police learned that the two had gone to the east end of the city they walked up behind the pair, and Captain Shattuck took the woman by the arm, while Detective Wood secured the man. The couple staggered, say the police, as if they were intoxicated. They made no protest against accompanying the officers. The man was downcast and would not talk. The woman chatted with the policeman at her side at first and asked to be released.

It was then she admitted having planned the kidnapping. In the meantime the man attempted to escape and the revolver shots of Captain Shattuck bronught him to a standstill.

Believe Woman Is From Sharon.

Sharon, Pa., March 24.—All Sharon people are deeply interested in the arrests at Cleveland, and suspicion began to center at once upon a woman well known here. It is believed by many persons here that the woman arrested on suspicion of having been implicated in the Whitla abduction case is from Sharon. The woman suspected has not been living with her husband for some time. If she is the woman on whom suspicion has centered here, her quoted assertion that "There will be hell in Sharon," was well founded, for her arrest would cause a great sensation.

WHITLA BOY AT HOME

The Whole Town Turned Out to Welcome Him.

Sharon, Pa., March 24.—The whole borough of Sharon turned out and participated in the demonstratiin over the home coming of Willie Whitla, who with his father, is now home. A big parade was led by the Buhl Independent Rifles, a National Guard company and the Buhl Rifles band, both named for Willie's uncle, and thousands of persons marched behind them through the principal streets of the town to the Whitla home, where fully 5000 persons assembled on the lawn and in front of the house, cheering and giving every evidence of the public participation in the family joy over the recovery of the little wanderer.

The band took a position on the front porch of the Whitla home and played several selectiins, while the whole crowd cheered frantically. In a front room, visible through a window, were the Whitla family, Willie beside Detective Ward, his father and mother behind the boy.

When calls were made for a speech, Mr. Whitla appeared on the porch, accompanied by Rev. Albert Joseph McCartney, of the First Presbyterian church, who spoke briefly, expressing the joy of all the Whitla neighbors and fellow citizens over the recovery of the boy.

Mr. Whitla then addressed the throng. He extended his thanks to all the officials and individuals who had assisted him in the search for the boy and expressed the gratitude of himself and family for the sympathy of the people, which he said had done so much to help the family bear up during the darkest hours of their sorrow. He suggested that children be taught by their parents to fear strangers and to make an outcry whenever any stranger should attempt to induce children to accompany him.

MAY LOCATE IN CENTRE.

Masonic Home and Orphanage to be Built this Year.

The Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania Free and Accepted Masons have now in hand a fund of $1,500,000 with which they intend building a magnificent home for aged and feeble Masons and their wives, and also have in prospect the erection of a school where the orphans of Masons can be educated until they arrive at the age of eighteen years. This fund is the result of numerous bequests of deceased Masons made for this especial purpose and no other. The fraternity already has two such homes in this State, one in the eastern part of the State and one in the western and it is the intention to erect the proposed new home in the central part of the State.

The project has been under consideration for a year or more but has now progressed so far that the Grand Lodge has appointed the following committee of prominent Masons to select a suitable location: Hon. George B. Orlady, of Huntingdon, chairman; Hon. George W. Guthrie, Pittsburg; Spencer Gibbs, Harrisburg; J. B. Krouse, Williamsport; Hon. L. A. Waters, Scranton; J. Henry Williams, Philadelphia; Edgar Tennis, Thompsontown; David A. Louden, Erie; W. T. Gorgas, Harrisburg, and John Gaft, of Chester.

A number of locations have already been offered the committee and about two months ago the Bellefonte Lodge, No. 268, took the matter up and decided to endeavor to secure the home and school for Centre county. To this end a committee was appointed composed of the following gentlemen; Col. J. L. Spangler, chairman; Dr. J. Allison Platts, John P. Harris, Hon. Ellis L. Orvis, H. C. Quigley and Robert F. Hunter, of Bellefonte; M. S. McDowell and Dr. William Frear, of State College. This committee already has several very desirable sites in view and upon their invitation the committee of the Grand Lodge will visit Bellefonte some time during the month of May to look over the ground, when they will be given a big reception by the Bellefonte Lodge.

Probably the most desirable site the local committee has in prospect is the Moses Thomson estate at Centre Furnace. It is nicely located and its five hundred or more acres of undulating land would afford grounds for all emergencies. In addition it has a large and never-failing spring of the purest water on the premises, and its convenience to the Pennsylvania State College is an advantage of no little merit; as once through the Masonic school the young men and women could enter the college and complete their education. The only possible objection that might be raised against locating the home and buildings there is the fact that it is not on the main line of a railroad, as it has heretofore always been an object on the part of members of the order to have their homes so located that travelers in passing by on a train could see it. Whether this objection can be overcome in this instance remains to be seen, but in any event the local committee will make a hard try for it.—The Watchman.

MINERS WON'T CALL A STRIKE

Impression Grows That Conservatives Control Situation.

CONVENTION IS HARMONIOUS

Committee to Define Policy of the Mine Workers, Headed by President Lewis, Expected to Find a "Remedy For the Present Case"—Conservatives Favoring Working Without Agreement If Demands Are Rejected.

Scranton, Pa., March 24.—With the preliminary work of organizing the tri-district convention of the anthracite mine workers out of the way and with the delegates ready to take up the question of a new agreement with their employers, the impression grows among those who are watching the developments in the hard coal fields that the mine workers will not call a strike unless something not now on the surface develops. This is the opinion of many of the mine workers who are here from all parts of the anthracite fields.

While differences of opinion arose in getting the complicated machinery of a miners' convention in motion there was never any feeling shown and the proceedings were gone through with as little friction as can be expected in a body where all delegates do not thoroughly understand the English language. National President T. L. Lewis presided, and in opening the convention made a brief speech, in which he appealed to the men to stand together and to carry into effect any policy that may be decided upon in the convention.

Committee to Define Union's Policy.

Several committees were created the most important of which was that appointed to define the policy of the anthracite mine workers. President Lewis was named by the convention to head the committee, the other members being the officers and national board members from the three districts. This committee it is expected will bring before the convention the plan that is to be followed in the further negotiations with the operators.

President Lewis said that he expects to leave for Indianapolis tonight, and therefore it is expected that the committee will make a report to the convention som etime today.

It is generally believed that whatever the "policy committee" may suggest to the convention, it will come from the brain of the national president. He has repeatedly refused to admit that he has a plan, but there are few who believe that he has a proposition to lay before the men. In fact all delegates are looking to him for "a remedy for the present case," as Mr. Lewis puts it.

Will Not Call a Strike.

As already stated, the feeling hereabouts is that the men will not go to the extreme of calling a strike. An inkling of what is to come if a question of strike is brought before the delegates was had in the convention when one delegate said he was uninstructed and that his people were unprepared for a strike, while another said that he had been instructed to stand by the leaders in whatever they advise. If a strike is suggested it is said there will be a sharp contest on the floor of the convention. The conservative men favor the plan of working without an agreement if the operators will not grant the men the demands they have presented. There was considerable talk heard among the delegates in favor of the plan to continue work, and if the mines are closed by the operators on April 1 the miners say the coal consuming public will hold the employers responsible for the shut-down. One plan talked of was for the miners to remain at work until the expiration of the present agreements in the soft coal regions in April, 1910. There are also rumors of counter-propositions and ultimatums, but none of them come from any authoritative source.

THAT DEER LAW

Another Correspondent Takes Exceptions to Dr. Kalbfus' Version of It.

PATTON, PA., Mar. 19, 1909,

EDITOR REPUBLICAN,
Bellefonte, Pa.

Dear Sir:--

I am just in receipt of a clipping from your paper of March 10, 1909. Dr. Kalbfus version of the Deer Law. In regard to same, I consider that under the Doctors version he is advocating one of the most dangerous hunting laws in the United States. How a man of his experience can uphold a law, which puts 30,000 huntsmen in the woods at one time, underbrush over their heads, and then to pick out a deer with horns. I cannot see where he gets the protection for Deer or Human Life.

Under his version he has a law for the protection of human life instead of a deer law. If such is to be our law for Deer, then it is time for all true sportsmen to rise against an Act of its kind remaining on the Statute Books. By protesting to the Governor to give us a deer law or otherwise appoint a Head to the Game Commission, who is willing to take advice of huntsmen, and not one who reads it out of books.

If the Doctor would only read his report of 1904 to the Governor with reference to deer, he would find only too true the conditions in this state today.

I cannot see how he can make the remark that it was not the Game Commission who made this law, but passed by members of the Legislature. I would like to see any bill go through without the Doctor's "OK." When he comes out and states that the law was not passed for to save deer but was passed to save Human Life, and the Game Commission would do all in its power to keep the law as it stands upon the Statute Books, for the simple purpose, if no other, of saving human life.

I would suggest that under this Act, it would be advisable for him to draft a bill to hold any man responsible for murder, who would go into the woods and shoot a huntsman under the pretext of shooting a Deer.

WE WANT A DEER LAW.

Yours very truly,
A. D. KENNEDY.
President Ozark Hunting Club.

Two Flim Flammers Worked Clever Game.

A pair of smooth flim-flammers descended upon Bloomsburg Monday, and after cleaning up $40 with their game dropped quietly out of sight. The names of their two victims the informer would not like to state.

The game was an old one, but they worked it so clever that they had no trouble getting out of harm's way before it was discovered. A prosperous looking man walked into a Main street store apparently in a hurry and laying an envelope on the counter, face upwards asked the clerk to give him a twenty dollar bill for twenty ones.

"I want to send some money home" he, said," and this small stuff makes too large a package."

The clerk took a crisp gold certificate from the cash register and he received a handful of ones. The envelope had been addressed and was decorated with a lot of stamps, indicating that it was to be sent as a registered letter. Depositing the bill carefully in the envelope, he pounded it on the counter and was about to walk out when the clerk told him that there were only nineteen bills in the roll he had given him

"That's funny," he said, laying the envelope on the counter, "let me count them."

He counted them and learned to his surprise in the roll, just as the clerk had told him. Explaining that the money had just been given him up the street he said he would have to go back at once and show them they had made a mistake. "Ill let you keep the bill in the envelope here until I come back." Thrusting the money into his pocket he walked out and after a long wait for his return the envelope was opened. Of course, the $20 bill was not inside, but there were a couple of sheets of blank book paper to give it the appearance of a letter.

The game was worked at two different Main street stores.

That State Boulevard.

If the proposed boulevard across the state is going to interfere with the good roads movement throughout the country districts, the measure deserves to be defeated. The road would be very nice for the fellows who can sport automobiles, we admit, but the public generally should share in the benefits of highway improvements.

FLAG NEAR SOUTH POLE

British Colors Raised 111 Miles From There.

WAS AN ARDUOUS JOURNEY

The Expedition Was Undertaken More For Geographical Purposes Than to Reach the Pole—Motor Car Used by Intrepid Explorers.

London, March 24.—The polar regions are gradually yielding up their secrets to human perseverance and determination. Lieutenant Ernest H. Shackleton, of the British navy, who left his permanent quarters last autumn for a dash to the pole, having succeeded, after an arduous sledge journey of 1718 miles, which occupied 126 days, in reaching within 111 miles of the South Pole, or 354 miles nearer than the point attained by the "discovery expedition," of which he was an officer.

As the expedition to the south was undertaken rather for the purposes of geographical survey than with the idea of reaching the pole itself, it may be said to have succeeded beyond the most sanguine expectations.

Profiting by former experiences in the Antarctic regions, when all the dogs succumbed to the strain and rigors of the climate, Lieutenant Shackleton made some departures from the usual preparations for a journey across the snow and ice. He took with him a motor car, which could be converted into a sledge, and substituted ponies and dogs and light woolen clothing for heavy furs.

The main expedition, of which Lieutenant Shackleton was in command, reached latitude 88.23, longitude 162 east, while a second party pushed forward to the southern magnetic pole, reaching latitude 72.25, longtitude 154 east. The British flag was left flying at both points.

The main expedition started on a sledge journey, which occupied 128 days, and traversed 1708 miles southwards. At the point where the expedition was compelled to turn back the land was 9000 feet in altitude, trending southward in a vast field of snow, no mountains being in sight.

A second party pushed forward to the southern magnetic pole. The ascent of Mount Erebus was accomplished with difficulty, and geological discoveries of great importance were made. The results attained have thrown much light on the past history of the Antarctic continent. The expedition suffered no loss of life.

NATION'S ENGINEERS TO MEET

Will Discuss Conservation of National Resources In New York Conference.

New York, March 24. — Under the joint auspices of four great national engineering societies, having a membership of 20,000 distributed all over the country, a conference of scientific men to discuss the conservation of the national resources will be held tonight in this city.

The purpose of the conference is in line with that of the meetings recently held in Washington and elsewhere, the furtherance of the movement to advocate the wise use of the nation's resources in soil, waters, minerals and forests and their conservation for the benefit of posterity. The members of the engineering societies believe the problem of conserving the nation's resources is the work of the engineer. More than a thousand engineers will attend the conference.

GROUND SINKS UNDERNEATH HIM.

John H. Horner Makes Narrow Escape of Being Buried Alive.

How one may walk into danger when he is seeking safety is well illustrated by an experience had by Messrs. John H. Horner and John Jordan, of Colyer, on their way home from the Brisbin & Company saw mill, east of Old Fort, Thursday evening of last week.

The workmen took a near cut from the saw mill to their home, and in doing so crossed one of the fields on the farm of Deputy Sheriff James B. Strohm, at Centre Hill, tenanted by William M. Sweeney. They were walking along leisurely when they observed that the earth had fallen in for a considerable space. This created some curiosity on their part, and they discussed the safety of going to the edge taking a peep into the pit. Mr. Jordan insisted on investigating, while Mr. Horner proclaimed his intentions to keep clear of all danger, and acting with this motive made a contour of the sink.

While Mr. Jordan was making a hasty inspection of the sunken earth, he was attracted by an exclamation of horror, and on looking up saw Mr. Horner struggling to extricate himself from the sinking earth beneath him, for as he was avoiding the dangers of one pit he fell into another. The earth looked good to Mr. Horner to walk on, but as he did suddenly his one foot sank into the earth, and before he could recover his balance his one leg thrust its length into a seemingly bottomless cavern. He threw himself upon the ground, and finally was able to draw his limb from the shifting foundation, and it was his luck that the surrounding earth bore him up. This experience made him more brave, and with his companion the newly formed opening was thoroughly examined, when it was found that the earth had sunk for about twenty feet, and the walls were almost perpendicular. After shaking themselves to find out whether they were really safe and sound, they continued their journey homeward.—Centre Reporter.

Laymen Pledged To Cause of Missions.

The Reformed church laymen's missionary convention, in session at Harrisburg on Thursday adopted resolutions pledging every effort toward evangelizing the 10,000,000 "nonchristian people for whom our Reformed church is most directly responsible." and setting $1,000,000 as the fiancial goal that must be reached to carry out this work properly. It is urged that during the coming year the laymen increase their mission contributions by a total of between $100,000 and $200,000, and that each classis set apart one session at each meeting to continue the work started here.

The three-day convention ended Thursday with a big mass meeting in Salem church, in which the sessions have been held, several addresses being delivered.

Among the speakers at the sessions on Thursday were Dr. Murray Galt Motter, of Washington, D. C., the Rev. Dr. John Bychman, of New Knoxville, Ohio; Dr. T. H. P. Sailer, of New York; Dr. W. M. Irvin, of Mercersburg; the Rev. Dr. William E. Lampe, of Washington; J. W. Wetzel, of Carlisle, and George F. Bareis, of Canal Winchester, Ohio.

Pennsy Passengers To Get Coffee Free

The Pennsylvania Railroad has decided to distribute tea, coffee, or both, to Pullman passengers on all trains to which there is attached a dining car. The Pullman people have been notified that hereafter the porters of the Pullman cars will be required to go to the dining car at the request of any passenger at any time and bring therefrom coffee or tea, which he will deliver to the passenger absolutely free, the railroad company furnishing the tea or coffee.

Pittsburg officers of the road deny that it is anything like a local option movement, but say it has been found that tea or coffee is a good preventive or cure for headache, so prevalent among travelers.

Drinks are to be served at any time during the day, even though meals are not being served at the time in the car, and the privilege will cease only when the car closes for the night.

Guard of Honor Dead.

Arthur Alward, aged 74 a veteran of the civil war, and who was one of the guard of honor when the body of President Lincoln lay in state in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, died on Monday at his home in Bellwood. Only two of the guard of honor now survive. The deceased was a member of the 187th Pennsylvania volunteers.

"THE FAIR THAT WILL BE READY."

Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition Grounds and Buildings Nearly Completed Three Months Ahead of Time.

Features of the Show That Will Be Different From Any of Its Predecessors—Beautiful Structures and Site Where Wonders of East and West Will Be Brought Together For the First Time.

Working with the same energy and enthusiasm that enabled the people of Seattle to raise $650,000 in one day three years ago to start the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition going, the directors of the great show that opens June 1 were able to announce this month that the fair was 95 per cent completed. Buildings are ready to receive the $50,000,000 of exhibits that make up the exposition; lighting and sewage systems have been completed, and the grounds, which have been laid out in one huge forest garden of 250 acres, are being planted with flowers and shrubs.

Up to the planning of the A.-Y.-P. show all expositions since those at Paris and Chicago have been very much alike. Seattle's exposition is different outwardly and in spirit. The idea of the A.-Y.-P. is to bring the unknown and undeveloped to the attention of people of the older and more highly developed parts of the world.

OFFICIAL DESIGN A-Y-P EXPOSITION.

The manner in which not only the Pacific coast states, but all countries and communities, have prepared for representation at Seattle indicates that the world places a high value on this opportunity to see and be seen in that quarter of the universe where wealth and development will make their greatest strides in the next few decades.

The national government gave no financial support to the exposition, but is spending a million on its buildings and exhibits. One hundred thousand of this sum was allotted to the Alaska exhibit. The Alaskans themselves promptly doubled this sum in order that the territory's timber, gold, copper, fisheries and agriculture might have a chance to convince the world that Alaska is not an icebox, but a treasure chest. Japan, whose people have had little trouble in Washington, is preparing to exhibit on a scale far greater than anything attempted at other expositions.

So far as the number and names of the buildings are concerned, a description of the A.-Y.-P. sounds as though it would be the same as any other exposition. But it is just here that similarity ends. A large number of the buildings are permanent structures, which will later become a part of the University of Washington. What was the Midway at Chicago and the Pike at St. Louis will be called the Pay

A GLIMPSE OF EXPOSITION ARCHITECTURE.

Streak at Seattle. Amusement features on the biggest scale ever attempted are being brought from all parts of the world, but novelty and merit have been necessary in order to obtain admission to the Pay Streak, stretching along the beautiful shore of Lake Washington.

For the illumination of the exposition site, lying in a natural amphitheater, surrounded by mountains, lakes and forests, enough electricity has been provided to supply a city of 40,000 people. In the decoration of the central court alone 800,000 incandescent lights are used. The cascades, down which 40,000 gallons of water will pour every minute, will be made a plunging rainbow by submerged lights of every color. It is intended also to light the geyser basin and the floor of Lake Union, where the government will carry on submarine boat experiments.

The railroads are calculating on carrying 2,000,000 people to Seattle this summer. The stop over privileges at Yellowstone park and other points along the way that every American wants to see and the religious, athletic and other gatherings to be held at Seattle during the exposition will of course add to the thousands that will journey to the Pacific coast this summer.

FORCES LINEUP FOR VIVISECTION BATTLE.

Animal Experimenters and Their Opponents In Two Day Contest Before New York Legislature.

March 23 and 24 will be anniversary days in the history of vivisection. These two days were set by the judiciary committees of the New York senate and assembly on which to hear the arguments for and against regulation of experiments on animals. Two such measures are before the legislature, and in explanation of this cleavage F. P. Bellamy, counsel for the Society of the Prevention of Abuse In Animal Experimentation, says:

"The New York Anti-vivisection society does not like the Davis-Lee bill, for which we are sponsors, because, in the opinion of the out and out anti-vivisectionists, it is not sufficiently radical. The doctors, on the other hand, oppose our bill because it is too radical, a situation that strongly suggests that the Davis-Lee measure represents a reasonable compromise between extremists."

A new development of the campaign actively waged by a committee of New York physicians especially interested in vivisection against any and all measures to lessen the abuses of the practice is the widespread circulation of literature in which it is claimed, for example, that animals do not suffer pain from the same causes and in the same ways that affect human beings. Nor, it is claimed, do yelps and writhings by an animal under experimentation necessarily mean that it is suffering.

Going a step further, one vivisectionist has written an elaborate article in which he asserts that the opposition to vivisection is a manifestation of a mania which in its milder forms is seen in the extreme affection of the afflicted ones for horses, dogs and cats.

All of which, it is pointed out, goes to show that perhaps the vivisectionists from the nature of their calling are not the best judges of what suffering is nor of the means necessary to prevent needless cruelty.

LAW OF UNFAIR COMPETITION.

Courts Now Protect Reputation of Things as Well as People.

Laymen are learning that the courts now hold that things as well as people have reputations, that these reputations are property and that equity courts will promptly enjoin attempts to take away this property right either by imitation or false representation.

The extent of the protection which the law affords against unscrupulous competitors is not generally realized. This is partly due to the fact that there has been no book in which the subject was brought up to date in the light of recent decisions of the courts. On this subject Harry D. Nims of the New York bar has now written a volume under the title "The Law of Unfair Business Competition."

This volume discusses the methods of enjoining, without the delays incident to damage suits, unfair use of the names of goods and persons, misuse of trade secrets, the imitation of manufactured articles, utterance of false statements as to credit and quality of goods, fraudulent and unfair interference with contracts and business of others by threats of prosecution and false representation. The book also contains chapters on the defenses available in proceedings of this sort and one on the remedies and relief which may be secured.

WONDERS OF SEATTLE FAIR.

Unique Features of Big Show That Opens June 1 on Pacific Coast.

Outside of the distinctly amusement features already known to exposition visitors, the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition will have more unique exhibits than any of its predecessors. Promptly on entering the grounds the visitor will see a golden monument in which $7,000 worth of Alaska-Yukon dust has been used. In another exhibit is $5,000,000 worth of gold dust, which has already arrived at the exposition city, and if the sightseer wants to know how this was obtained he can have the privilege of panning gold from native Alaska gravels.

"Old Faithful," the famous Yellowstone park geyser, has been reproduced, spouting water to a height of 150 feet, illuminated at night by multicolor electric lights. As a part of the Hawaiian exhibit there is an exact reproduction of the volcano Kilauea in action.

For the doorway of the Alaska building of the exposition the largest pair of whale jawbones ever discovered have been used. The bones are nineteen feet in length and weigh nearly a ton. Not far away is a more practical exhibit of the bigness of northwestern products—a one piece flagpole 200 feet in height, made from timber found near Buckley, Wash.

The flower display at Seattle will cover a large part of the grounds. The scale on which this feature is being carried can be judged from the fact that 100,000 cactus dahlia plants are used in a single design, and more than 200,000 tufted English pansies will be seen growing in one huge bed.

BOY KIDNAPPED FROM SCHOOL

Ransom of $10,000 Demanded For His Return.

THREATEN TO KILL THE LAD

Team In Which William Whitla Was Taken From School at Sharon, Pa., Found at Warren, O., With Child's Hat on Seat—Mother Receives Letter From Kidnapper.

Sharon, Pa., March 19.—Ten thousand dollars ransom is demanded for the return of William Whitla, the eight-year-old son of Attorney James P. Whitla, who was spirited away from school here by an unknown man, furnishing a mystery which the detectives of the country are being asked to solve. Accompanying the demand for ransom is a covert threat that the boy will be killed unless the money is produced.

Hundreds of telegrams and telephone messages have been sent to the police of various cities asking their assistance in the search for the boy and his abductors. The first fruit of these came when Chief of Police Crain, of this city, received word that the rig in which the lad was taken away had been recovered at Warren, Ohio, with the child's hat on the buggy seat. All the zeal of police and detectives is now being centered at the region lying about Warren, and those in charge of the chase think that the kidnapper has but a slender chance of escape. To the boldness and openness of the abductor is attributed his success in getting the child out of Sharon without exciting serious suspicion. A man said to answer the description of the kidnapper is under arrest at Warren, Ohio.

Stranger Drove Up to School.

A stranger drove up to the East ward school house, where young Whitla is a pupil in room No. 2, and told the janitor, Wesley Sloss, that the lad was wanted at once at his father's office. Sloss conveyed the message to Mrs. Anna Lewis, the boy's teacher, who dismissed the child. As she was helping him to put on his overcoat, she remarked, half jokingly: "I hope that man does not kidnap Willie." The man in the buggy had a dark complexion, dark hair and a stubby moustache. He was stockily built. He spoke excellent English and was evidently American born.

When Sloss appeared with the boy the stranger smiled and helped him up to the seat beside him. He then drove off in the direction of Mr. Whitla's office. Several persons say a confederate joined the kidnapper before he had left the town.

Little was thought of the incident, and there was no belief that a crime had been committed until the lad failed to return home. Becoming worried, Mrs. Whitla began a search. At the school she learned of what had occurred there. Later a letter directed to the mother was delivered at the house by a mail carrier. Mrs. Whitla at once recognized the handwriting on the envelope as that of her son. Opening it, she found the following communication, written in a strange hand:

Letter From Kidnapper.

"We have your boy and will return him for $10,000. Will see your advertisement in the papers. Insert in Indianapolis News, Cleveland Press, Pittsburg Dispatch, Youngstown Vindicator. 'A. A.—Will do as requested. J. P. W.' Dead boys are not desirable."

The penmanship and spelling of the note indicated it had been written by a man of fair education. Mr. Whitla decided to comply with the conditions of the letter and sent for publication to each of the newspapers specified the note it directed him to insert.

FREE SHARP BUT SPLIT ON COOPERS

It is Doubtful if Jurors in Carmack Case Will Agree.

Nashville, Tenn., March 20.—When the jury returned a verdict of acquittal for John D. Sharp, charged with the murder of former United States Senator Edward W. Carmack, and declared that it was "hopelessly tied up as to the Coopers," it was generally conceded that the end of the famous case had all but been reached.

Nothing daunted by the expressive firmness of Foreman Burke's declaration of a disagreement as to the guilt of Colonel Duncan B. Cooper and his son, Robin, jointly charged with Sharp with slaying Carmack, Judge Hart sent the twelve men out for further deliberation and announced that he would not discharge them unless he was convinced that an agreement could not be reached.

The jurors looked tired, worn and ill at ease. From the loud talking heard in the room they have been having a strenuous time.

NEGRO ADMITS BRUTAL MURDER

Tells How He and Three Others Killed Inauguration Guest.

WAS STABBED TO DEATH

Artist Was Beaten Unmercifully and Taken to a Field Near Alexandria, Va., and a Knife Thrust Into His Throat—Robbery Was the Motive.

Washington, March 19.—The mystery surrounding the death of Walter F. Schultz, a Chicago artist, whose body was found on March 8 near Alexandria, Va., near Washington, was cleared up at a preliminary examination of four negro suspects. One of them confessed in open court.

According to his story, Schultz, who was an inauguration visitor, went to Alexandria while intoxicated and attracted the attention of three negro toughs, who determined to kill and rob him.

Two or three days ago the Alexandria police arrested Henry Smith, Richard Pines, James Dorsey and Calvin Johnson, known as "bad" negroes. Smith confessed.

Smith said that on the evening of March 6 he saw Schultz on a street corner, surrounded by Pines, Dorsey and Johnson, and heard Schultz say: "My God, don't do me that way." He approached the group, and when he inquired what the men were doing, had a pistol poked in his face, with a demand that he join them.

Then one of the negroes threw Schultz's overcoat over the artist's head and he was picked up by all four, who started for a lonely field, where it was the intention to kill the artist and rob him.

Smith said a cloth was placed around Schultz's neck and Dorsey thrust a knife into the victim's throat. Schultz's pockets were searched, and it was thought best not to take all the money, Smith said, so that it would appear robbery was not the motive. The men separated, Smith said.

On cross-examination the negro said that Schultz had been beaten unmercifully, and the artist was helpless when carried into the field where he was killed.

Schultz's parents reside in Chicago. He had travelled extensively. A letter from a sister was found in his pocket and this led to the identification of the body.

DOG SAVES FOUR FROM FIRE

Pulls Covers From Master's Bed In Time For All to Escape.

Hazleton, Pa., March 19.—The vigilance of a faithful watchdog saved the family of Frank Denko from death by fire. When the family retired for the night a lighted lamp was left in the kitchen. It is believed that the lamp exploded during the night and set fire to the table cloth and the house. The dog, rushing to the bedside of Denko, pulled the covers from him and raised such a commotion that Denko got up.

He did so just in time, for the entire building was enveloped in flames. He first got his two little children out safely, and then returned for his wife. The dog waited until Denko reached the ground and then jumped from a second-story window. The house was burned to the foundations. Denko, his wife and children saved nothing but the night clothes they had on.

650 CASES CATSUP DUMPED INTO SEA

Was Not Labelled in Accordance With Pure Food Laws.

Providence, R. I., March 19.—The waters of Narragansett bay were well seasoned with tomato catsup, when 650 cases, containing 15,600 bottles, were dumped into the sea because they did not meet the requirements of the federal pure food law. The catsup was intercepted here while in transit from Baltimore to Boston last September. Judge Arthur Brown, of the United States district court, ruled that it should be confiscated, inasmuch as the manufacturers had not labelled the bottles in accordance with the pure food law.

LETTER BOXES ON CARS

Wilmingtonians Expedite Their Mail by Aid of the Trolley.

Wilmington, Del., March 19. — The regular cars of the Wilmington City railway on certain lines are equipped with a letter box on the outside and just back of the front steps. At nearly every corner mail matter is dropped into the receptacle, the opening to which is so arranged that letters can be dropped in, although the car does not come to a stop.

When the cars pass the postoffice, near Ninth and Market streets, a postal transfer man empties the contents of the boxes into a bag and carries them to the postoffice. In this way many hours are gained in the forwarding of letters. If the innovation proves popular arrangements will be made to have the system permanently established.

Railroaders at State College.

Two dozen railroad station agents, including those on the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad and those on the P. and E. division from Williamsport to Harrisburg were at The Pennsylvania State College on Wednesday of last week where they were taken for the rather novel purpose of listening to members of the college faculty tell of the advanced methods of agriculture, the use of which would greatly increase the productivity of the country through which the above railroads traverse. It is the purpose that these agents shall themselves communicate with the farmers living near their stations and suggest to them plans whereby the output of their farms may be made more profitable. This would give more freight to the railroads and consequently all would be benefitted.

The trip of the agents to State College is to be followed by an active campaign on the part of the railroad management to interest the farmers along the line, especially of the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad, in more scientific farming. Special instruction trains will be sent over different routes and efforts will be made to induce farmers personally to go to State College that they may observe the opportunities which are open to them. In addition, the company has taken steps to learn the names of the owners of the farms as well as the names of all farm tenants with a view to bring them closer together in the work of developing their farms to a higher state of proficiency.

Plans for New Court House.

Designs made by Robert Cole, the architect, are framed and on exhibit in the County Commissioners' office for a proposed improvement and enlargement of the present Temple of Justice, known as the Centre county court house. The design very materially enlarges the present building without destroying the front, which is a model of architecture. On either side of the building there are 12-foot extensions (about twenty feet back) that will make the offices and vaults about ten feet deeper, thus materially increasing their capacity, which at this time, is an absolute necessity, would widen the audience room of the court house and the seats would be arranged in a semi-circle, bringing the platform forward some.

A two story extension would be built to the rear where a steam plant would be erected on first floor to heat the court house and county jail. On the second floor there would thus be ample room provided for a library, jury rooms and waiting rooms. This plan would provide relief to the present congested condition of the building and the original architecture lines would be largely maintained.

Remember, of course this is only a design, or a plan, submitted by Mr. Cole and the commissioners have thus far done no more than to look at the plans.

MINERS MEET TOMORROW

Will Take Action on Rejection of Union's Demands.

THE DELEGATES ARE DIVIDED

Although It Is Said the Conservatives Will Control the Situation and the Present Agreement Will Be Renewed—Trouble Must Come From Operators.

Scranton, Pa., March 22.— The delegates to the tri-district convention of the anthracite miners will meet here tomorrow to determine what action shall be taken in view of the refusal of the mine operators to make certain concessions demanded. The working agreement expires April 1. This agreement the operators wish to renew, but the union men have asked for modifications, including recognition of the union. The action taken by the miners will determine whether the present relations will continue or a movement inaugurated to force better terms. On Thursday the national executive board of the United Mine Workers of America will meet at Indianapolis and take up the dispute in the anthracite regions. President Tom Lewis, of the latter organization, will attend both meetings.

It is said plans have been completed whereby a strike will be averted. A man in close touch with union affairs says the agreement will be renewed by the district officers of the three districts, and possibly Thomas L. Lewis national president, thereby waiving the demand for recognition of the union.

Up to this time opinions of the union men themselves agreed that operations at the collieries of the companies and independent operators would be suspended April 1, either by strike or suspension. A majority now feel that a struggle will not take place. The men do not want a fight, and if there is to be one, it must come from the employers.

Ninth District Delegates Divided.

Shamokin, Pa., March 22.—It was learned that the delegates representing the Ninth district, United Mine Workers, are divided on what course to pursue at the convention which is called to meet in Scranton tomorrow. Some, it is said, are in favor of a general strike in the event of no concessions being granted by the operators, while others will favor the conservative plan and vote for the men to remain at work under the present agreement.

Preachers Referred to Coal Crisis.

Mahanoy City, Pa., March 22. — In many of the churches in the towns throughout the Mahanoy and Shenandoah valleys on Sunday pastors referred to the approaching crisis in the anthracite field and advised the men to proceed with caution and to avoid if possible a repetition of the industrial conflict of seven years ago. The men who are not at present affiliated with the union are strongly desirous of peace and are hopeful that the Scranton convention will agree to accept a renewal of the present working agreement and the sliding scale of wages for another three-year period.

APOPLEXY KILLS WILLIAM CONNELL

He Rose From Breaker Boy to Multi-Millionaire.

Scranton, Pa., March 22.—William Connell, former congressman, extensive coal operator, capitalist and philanthropist, died of a stroke of apoplexy sustained Thursday morning. He was born at Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, Sept. 10, 1827. When quite young his parents moved to Hazleton, Luzerne county, and it was there he began his life's work as a breaker boy in the mines at 40 cents a day. He died a multi-millionaire. In 1856 he came to Scranton, and shortly after was placed in charge of the mines of the Susquehanna & Wyoming Railroad and Coal company. In 1870, when the charter of that corporation lapsed, he was enabled to purchase the plant and reorganized under the firm name of William Connell & Co., and from this beginning he developed into the largest individual coal operator in the Wyoming region.

Mr. Connell was actively connected with many important interests in this city. He was also a member of the Pennsylvania Republican committee and was elected to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth congresses, serving four successive terms as congressman.

Six of his eleven children survive him. Mrs. Connell died seven years ago, and Mr. Connell's decline in health dated from her death.

NO TRACE OF KIDNAPPED BOY

Developments Likely to Centre About Cleveland.

FATHER NOT PUSHING MATTERS

Mr. Whitla's Great Wish Is to Get His Boy Back and Is Anxious to Open Negotiations With Abductors For His Speedy Return—Uncle of Lad Goes to Cleveland.

Sharon, Pa., March 20.—Frank H. Buhl, the millionaire uncle of William Whitla, the eight-year-old son of Attorney James P. Whitla, of this city, who was kidnapped from school and taken away by his abductor or abductors in a buggy, left for Cleveland. It has been reported from that city that two men and a boy answering the description of the kidnappers and their victim have been seen there, consequently the supposition is that Mr. Buhl has received word which makes him believe his nephew is in Cleveland or that vicinity. The buggy in which the child was taken from this place was located at Warren, O., and as the Cleveland papers were among those specified in which the demand of the kidnappers for a $10,000 ransom should be answered by a personal advertisement, all evidence seems to indicate that developments in the mysterious case will center about the lake city.

Mr. Shilling, who is associated with Mr. Whitla in the search for the latter's son, gave out the following statement:

"Nothing new has developed. The rig in which the men carried the boy away was found in front of a livery stable in Warren, O. Where the party left the buggy is not known, as no one saw them in it at this point. The buggy contained a new cap which apparently had not been worn. It was not the cap of young Whitla as at first reported. While the police in the near cities and towns were promptly set to work, yet Mr. Whitla is not pushing matters vigorously, his great wish being to get his boy back. He is hoping that the parties having the boy in custody will at once open negotiations for his speedy return."

The lawyer and his close friends and associates in the kidnapping investigation refuse to give out for publicity the second letter received from the kidnappers. It is said, however, that the letter threatened instant death to the boy should its contents be made public or shown to detectives. It is also intimated that the letters contained something which had to do with the method in which the money was to be paid over to the kidnappers. In addition to the two men, it is rumored here that a woman is implicated in the case.

Will Give Any Amount to Recover Boy

Cleveland, O., March 20.—Millionaire Frank Buhl, of Sharon, Pa., an uncle of kidnapped Willie Whitla, arrived in this city and is now at the Hotel Euclid, hoping to get some clue to the kidnappers and the missing boy. Buhl says he is willing to spend any amount of money to recover Willie Whitla, that his father does not want vengeance and is willing to pay the $10,000 ransom in order to have his son returned safe and sound.

The police thought they had the missing boy, when they arrested a man in the vicinity of the Hotel Euclid. This man had been seen with a boy answering the description of the Whitla child some hours previously. It transpired, however, that this boy was the son of a Cleveland man whose wife deserted him a few days ago.

AGAINST TARIFF TAX ON GOOD ROAD MAKING.

Work For Better Highways Would Be Halted by Concession to California's Demand For Duty on Asphalt.

Protesting against the proposal to increase the tariff on asphalt, the Chicago Tribune, one of the leading Republican papers of the country, says:

"The California producers of asphalt ask that the duties on the competing asphalt of Trinidad and Venezuela be more than doubled. They say that they, who have to pay railroad freight rates across the continent, cannot compete in the east with the foreign product, which is cheaply carried by water. This will not be disputed, but it does not follow that eastern cities should be made to pay more for their pavements in order to make a wider and better market for one of the minor products of a distant state. They ought not to be mulcted because the freight on a ton of Trinidad asphalt is $2 and a ton of the California product $11.

"In spite of the alleged insufficiency of the present duty the California producers are doing fairly well. Their output in 1907 was 98,000 tons, while 105,000 were imported. They have a practical monopoly in several states. They have an equal chance with their competitors in others. They ought, under the circumstances, to be satisfied with that. They should turn their attention to the lowering of freight rates rather than to the raising of duties. That would be a method of widening their market which would hurt nobody.

"The general superiority of asphalt for paving purposes is admitted. Nothing but the cost stands in the way of its almost universal use. Municipalities and property owners should not be forced through legislation that would add to the cost of asphalt to put up with less desirable pavements. Those pavements would be likely to cost them a little more than they do now if the cost of paving with asphalt were increased.

"The national government should do nothing through its tariff legislation to hurt the cause of good roads and good pavements. Many counties in many states are trying to improve their roads with asphaltic compounds. They should not be discouraged by the imposition of higher duties on asphalt at the request of some California producers. Crude asphalt should be put on the free list as a concession to the interests of the city and country communities."

HOW TO COOK CURRANTS.

With the spread of knowledge of the high food value of dried currants, the housewife is always looking for new ways in which to use this wholesome, nourishing fruit. Here are a few recipes, unknown except to very few cooks:

Oatmeal Currant Biscuits. — Half pound flour, one-quarter pound coarse oatmeal, two ounces brown sugar, two ounces currants, one gill milk. Mix the flour, oatmeal and sugar, warm the butter in the milk, add the currants and then work the whole together into a paste. Roll out very thinly, stamp out into rounds or other shape, place on a baking tin and bake in a moderate oven for about twenty minutes.

Scotch Currant Cake. — Three-quarters pound butter, five eggs, one-quarter gill milk, one-quarter pound granulated sugar, one pound of flour, six ounces currants. Beat up the butter and sugar to a cream, gradually add the eggs one by one, the flour by spoonfuls, then, lastly, beat in the currants, stir up thoroughly with a wooden spoon and add the milk. Line two cake tins with buttered paper, pour in the mixture and bake in a moderate oven about an hour and a quarter.

Currant Rice Cakes.—Four eggs, two ounces butter, four ounces granulated sugar, two to three ounces currants, one-half gill cream, four ounces rice flour, four ounces wheat flour. Beat up the eggs and sugar with a whisk for fifteen minutes. Sift both flours and stir into the beaten eggs. Melt the butter and add also. Lastly add the currants and the cream. Have ready some buttered small cake tins. Fill these with the mixture and bake from twenty-five to thirty minutes in a moderately heated oven.

Princeton Currant Bread.—Boil one medium sized potato in quart of water until soft. Scald one small cup of flour with the hot potato water and add mashed potato, beaten thoroughly to prevent lumps. When cold add one cake compressed yeast soaked in a little cold water. Let stand six hours to raise. Then add one pint warm water, one pound thoroughly washed currants, one tablespoonful of lard, salt, two beaten eggs, one cup brown sugar, cinnamon if desired and flour to make a stiff dough. Knead ten minutes and put into covered pan in a warm place to stand overnight. Bake in the usual way. This recipe will make three large or six small loaves. This bread requires more time than white bread to raise.

THE ANTHRACITE SITUATION.

The darkest cloud on the industrial outlook at this time is in the hard coal region of Pennsylvania, where there is a possibility that 150,000 or more miners may quite work on April 1st. The contention is over scale provisions rather than wages and involves a renewal of the existing agreement, which is practically an extension of the arrangement entered into the fall of 1902, when President Roosevelt's intervention through a special commission, wrought for peace. The operators now object to union recognition, a point upon which the miners of course, are more insistent than on any other, for that once yielded the men will be at a disadvantage. Doubtless the operators would not hold out long on the union issue if they could secure renewal of the old agreement without any variations. Indeed it is understood that they are perfectly willing to go along for another three years, but the miners want some material changes.

Between the contending forces they have managed to bring about a disagreement which seems sure to result in a strike, or at least in a considerable period of illness which is almost as bad in its physical effects upon the communities directly concerned. Oddly enough, and notwithstanding the bitter denunciation to which Mr. Roosevelt was subjected for his part in ending the last strike, there has never been a season of more abundant or longer sustained prosperity in the anthracite territory than since 1902. This is true not merely as to the operators, but as to their employes and business men generally in the five or six affected counties. Even during the time covered by the panic of 1907 and its subsequent developments the anthracite region has more than held its own. At this distance one would suppose, therefore, that both sides to the controversy would be only too anxious to stretch a point in order to effect a renewal of present contracts. This is what the state and country at large will hope for at any rate, though it may be as well for all concerned not to make any arrangement that can be terminated in the spring of 1912. This is a presidential year, and no good can come from any such coincidence in dates while the possibilities for harm both to labor and politics, are infinite.

SETTING A GOOD EXAMPLE.

If presidents of the United States can set fashions in wearing whiskers and clothes, and everybody knows they have done this, why shouldn't their example be influential in the field of sport? It was during the administration of Mr. Roosevelt that the revival of tennis playing and pedestrianism took place. Now, thus early, the edict has gone forth "Everbody will play golf this summer." Washington dealers in sporting goods report an unprecedented demand for golf paraphernalia, and manufacturers of sticks and balls are looking for a boom in their business all over the country, while several professional players from Scotland are already on their way to the United States in hope of securing positions at some of the new clubs which are forming to follow the pastime. President Taft it is said, has been informed by his physician that a daily round of the links will be necessary to keep him in prime condition for his arduous duties of state, and he will not lack for companions from among his official family. But it is to be a horseback-riding as well as a golf-playing cabinet. At least five of the members are enthusiastic equestrians and it is proposed that, with the President, they take a weekly canter along the good roads around Washington. What a chance for a snapshot!

Citizens generally might follow with profit to themselves the example set in high places. If the President and cabinet members can take time to gain strength and nerve by exercise in the open air, the ordinary excuse of the business man loses its force. Fact is, we all have time for whatever we ought to do. And there can be no doubt that the average man ought to spend more time out in God's fresh air and sunshine and less in the stuffy office. The Washington idea is a good one and it should be made unanimous.

der of Sarah Brennan at Brownsville, near Watertown, April, 1908. In concluding his statement the governor says:

"I find no ground on which I could justify granting clemency, and, therefore, deny the application.

Mrs. Mary Farmer will be the second woman to be put to death by electricity, the other being Mrs. Place, whom the then Governor Roosevelt refused to pardon. Mrs. Farmer's crime was the killing of Sarah Brennan in their home in the little town of Hoonsfield. The object, it was alleged, was to secure possession of the home owned by Mrs. Brennan and her husband.

STEEL PLANT FAILS

Cut In Prices Said to Be Responsible For It.

Cumberland, Md., March 23.—The receivers appointed for the Maryland Rail company, an independent concern employing several hundred men here, were bonded in $50,000. The cut in steel is said to be responsible for the failure. Through the panic of 1907 work was steady and the plant was the main industry of this city.

KIDNAPPERS ARE SLY

Failed to Go For Money Deposited In Park With Police Watching.

Cleveland, O., March 22.—After failing in an attempt to negotiate a settlement for the return of his kidnapped son, Willie, in a park at Ashtabula, J. P. Whitla has returned to his home in Sharon, Pa.

Mr. Whitla was instructed in a letter from the kidnappers to leave $10,000 in Flatiron park Saturday night. If no detectives were about, the kidnappers promised, they would secure the money and deliver the boy safely to the father in a hotel at Ashtabula at 3 o'clock Sunday morning. Whitla deposited the money as requested, but the Ashtabula police learned of the plans to pay the ransom and went to the park. The kidnappers are supposed to have seen them, for at 3 o'clock the money was intact and not a man had approached the spot at which it had been left.

Whitla had a score of detectives in readiness in this city to start a search for the kidnappers as soon as he had safely secured the boy.

ROOSEVELT ON WAY TO AFRICA

Ship Bearing Him and His Party Sails Today.

DUE AT NAPLES APRIL 3

Crowd Sees Former President Off at Hoboken Pier — Youngster's Good Wishes Bring Smile to His Face. The Hamburg, Carrying Him to Europe, and the Admiral, on Which He Will Sail For Africa, Among the Finest Vessels Afloat.

New York, March 23.—Out on the "bosom of the ocean," as the writers have it, is Theodore Roosevelt with his party of lion hunters. They are aboard the Hamburg-American line steamer Hamburg, which cast off her lines from her Hoboken pier this morning and to the music of the whistles of numerous ferryboats, tugs and other vessels sailed down the bay with her distinguished passenger.

Accompanying Mr. Roosevelt — or Colonel Roosevelt, as some wise reporters addressed him on the pier—are his son, Kermit Roosevelt; Major Edgar A. Mearns, medical corps, U. S. A. retired; Edmund Heller and J. Alden Loring. The last named three men accompany Mr. Roosevelt as representatives of the Smithsonian institution, while the younger Roosevelt is official photographer of the expedition.

Crowd on the Pier.

The long pier to which the Hamburg was moored was jammed this morning with persons gathered to see the Roosevelt party sail. They made the pier ring with their cheers for the voyager from the time of his arrival from New York city until the Hamburg sailed. He was mightily pleased with the reception and showed his gratification by his smiles and the frequency with which he lifted his hat in response to greetings. To a request for a formal statement of his plans Mr. Roosevelt returned a smiling denial. "It has all been printed over and over again," he said, "and I have nothing to say."

Among the most enthusiastic of the cheering crowd when the Hamburg moved slowly away from her pier was a small boy, who had crowded to the very limit permitted by the authorities of the steamship line. His last cry, "Goodby, Teddy; take care of yourself!" brought a smile even to the face of the ex-president, who seemed then a little tired of smiling.

Two Fine Ships Carry Party.

The Hamburg is due at Naples on April 3. Mr. Roosevelt and his party will remain in the Italian city two days, sailing thence on the Admiral of the German East African line on April 5. The Hamburg is one of the finest vessels of the Hamburg-American line and is the favorite ship of the German emperor. The Admiral is her equal in all the comforts and conveniences needed for the hot trip through the Suez canal, down the Red sea and along the moist and sticky coast of East Africa. The Admiral is due at Mombasa, where the Roosevelt party will disembark, on April 22.

On his arrival at Mombasa Mr. Roosevelt and his party will go direct to the estate of Sir Alfred Pease, a member of the well-known English Quaker family, which is situated at Kilima Theki, Kapiti plains, British East African Protectorate, and remain there for three months during the heavy rains.

Will Visit American In Africa.

Afterward the Roosevelt party will go to Nairobi and pay a visit to the estate of Philip MacMillan, who is head of an American company that has a concession of 100 square miles in the district. They will cross Lake Victoria early in December to enter Uganda when the dry season commences in order to do the thirty-seven days' march to Gondokoro in fine weather.

It is expected that the Roosevelt expedition will complete its trip through the dark continent in the spring of next year, reaching Cairo about April 1, 1910.

BUSINESS FAILED; SUICIDES

Marble Cutter Carved His Own Tombstone and Then Shot Himself.

Philadelphia, March 23—David Lark, head of the firm of Lark, Miller & Company, marble workers, shot and killed himself to avoid being sold out by the sheriff. He was fifty-three years old and for years had taken a deep interest in division politics. He is said to have carved his own tombstone shortly before his death. The sheriff's deputy arrived at Lark's office a few minutes after he had killed himself. On learning of the tragedy the deputy postponed the sale.

Peruna Improves Digestion.
GEN. A. M. LEGG, Comdr. in Chief Union Vet. Legion, WASHINGTON, D.C.
GEN. S. S. YODER, LIMA, OHIO.
D. T. KIRBY, BRIG. GEN. U.S.V. WASHINGTON. D. C.

Deafness Relieved by Pe-ru-na.

General A. M. Legg, Commander in Chief, Union Veteran Legion, writes from the Savings Bank Building, Washington, D. C., as follows:

"I take pleasure in endorsing the many recommendations I have heard and read of Peruna, because of having had knowledge of the truth of so many of them.

"We always tell our sick and ailing friends of the remedies that we have learned from experience were good for us, and we do it as a duty that we feel we owe them.

"My own little personal experience of being relieved of deafness caused by a siege of catarrh warrants me in advising all the afflicted to try Peruna."

Recommends Pe-ru-na to Afflicted.

D. T. Kirby, Brigadier General U. S. V., Washington, D. C., writes:

"Friends of mine having used your Peruna as a catarrh cure with good results, I am impressed with its curative qualities, and can recommend it to those who are afflicted."

Grateful for Pe-ru-na.

General S. S. Yoder, ex-Member of Congress, from Lima, Ohio, in a letter to Dr. Hartman, speaks of Peruna as follows:

"I desire to say that I have found Peruna to be a wonderful remedy. I have only used it for a short time, and am thoroughly satisfied in regard to its merits. I cannot find words to express my gratitude for the good results obtained from its use. As a catarrh cure, I shall gladly recommend it to all sufferers."

Our army and navy are the natural protectors of our country. If Peruna is used to protect our army and navy from the vicissitudes of climate, then Peruna becomes of national interest and importance.

Other Military Men Who Have Endorsed Pe-ru-na.

Mr. John C. Nelson, Dayton, Tenn., geologist and mining engineer and Captain in the Federal army during the Civil War: "Reason will accept your classification of catarrhal diseases as scientific and true, and the Peruna remedies as a standard treatment for them."

Charles W. Bowman, Lanham, Md., First Lieutenant and Adjutant Fourth M. S. M. Cav. Vols.: "I have been particularly benefited by Peruna for colds in the head and throat. I have been able to fully cure myself of a most severe attack in forty-eight hours, by its use according to directions. I use it as a preventive whenever threatened with an attack."

J. Edwin Browne, 410 11th St., N. E., Washington, D. C., National Commander Army and Navy Union of U. S. A.: "I have no hesitation in endorsing your Peruna as a most efficient cure for catarrh."

Mr. K. Esveld, 39 Hermitage St., Grand Rapids, Michigan, Company "B," 21st Michigan V. I.: "I suffered for years from effects of the la grippe, which seemed to settle in my stomach and kidneys. Five bottles of Peruna made a new man of me."

General George B. Williams, 2121 Bancroft Place, Washington, D. C.: "Peruna has always helped me wonderfully. I can recommend it for indigestion and nervousness."

Col. Arthur L. Hamilton, 259 Goodale St., Columbus, Ohio, Seventh Ohio Volunteers: "Besides having the merits of Peruna fully demonstrated in my family, I have a number of friends who have taken it for catarrh and stomach trouble, and all unite in praising it. As a remedy for catarrh, I can fully recommend it."

Col. Homer T. Riggs, Pension Bureau, Washington, D. C., Inspector General on the staff of the National Commander of the Union Veteran Legion: "Peruna is a pleasant and effective tonic, cures and prevents colds and catarrhal affections, and also acts upon the liver. I can recommend it as a safe and reliable medicine."

Hon. George W. Honey, 1700 First St., N. E., Washington, D. C., National Chaplain U. V. U., Ex-Chaplain Fourth Wisconsin Cavalry, Ex-Treasurer State of Wisconsin, and Ex-Quartermaster General State of Texas G. A. COMMON SENSE

Leads most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrappers and attest its correctness under oath, are daily growing in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody. Dr. Pierce being desirous of having the search light of investigation turned fully upon his formulas, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great, blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that) yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hang-on-coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time to get its full benefits. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay, or non-professional, testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

Prosperous Howard

It is a pleasure to note the efficient manner in which the local affairs of our neighboring borough of Howard, Centre county, are conducted. The recent audit of the local government shows the finances to be in a very healthy condition, there being about a thousand dollars in the hands of the treasurer. The Philadelphia Record is noting the matter says:

"Home rule is the best rule under all circumstances when the taxpayers and electors can be prevailed upon to take a direct personal interest in the management of their local government affairs. The little municipalities for this reason are vastly better governed than the big ones. A correspondent at Howard, Centre county, asks us to mark the contrast between that little rural hamlet of less than 1,000 inhabitants and the tangle of affairs in the larger, wiser, richer and more conceited towns and cities of the state and country. At a recent audit of the Howard finances the borough treasurer showed a balance in hand of $987,-34; there was $124.85 unexpended in the poor fund; there were also uncollected tax duplicates of $644.93, with no counterbalancing indebtedness. Not a bad financial showing. The courageous, helpful spirit of the little community was illustrated a few days ago. A new church had been erected and furnished at a cost $5,000. When it was ready for dedication $1,225 was needed. That amount was contributed at the first service in the new building and the church sets about its work free of debt and able to make war upon sin with unincumbered energy."

Death of a Young Man.

A sad death occurred at Howard Thursday evening when Maurice Loder passed from this life to the one beyond. On December 3, 1908, while he and Frank Fearon were driving along the public road near Beech Creek with a team and wagon they were struck by a New York Central passenger train and young Loder was seriously injured internally. He had recovered sufficiently from the injuries to resume his studies at school, when about three weeks ago he contracted pneumonia. He had passed through the serious stage of that disease and was apparently on the way to recovery, when a few days ago he became suddenly worse and passed away at six o'clock Thursday evening.

It is thought that complications resulting from pneumonia and the injuries caused his death. He is survived by his parents and one sister, Alice.

Maurice was the only son of William and Hetty Loder and was born in Howard August 12, 1891, consequently being 17 years, 7 months and 6 days of age. He was a bright ambitious boy and a member of the junior class of the Howard high school. Before his death he professed faith in Christ and asked to be baptized, which rite was performed by Rev. Rollin S. Taylor.

The funeral took place Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. In compliance with the young man's request services were held in the Reformed church at Howard and were conducted by Rev. H. I. Crow. Interment in the Schenck cemetery.

Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

March 28th 1909.

Temperance Lesson. Proverbs xxiii. 29-35.

Golden Text.—At last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder. Proverbs xxiii: 32.

Verses 29-30.—Is strong drink as a beverage in so called moderation, good for any body?

Do all who drink habitually receive injury as a result?

Should alcohol be used in any form as a medicine?

Is it safe or prudent, for people in good health to take intoxicating drink as a beverage?

What classes in the community are suffering from the drinking habit, directly and indirectly?

Why do athletes always abstain from drinking when they are in training for a contest?

What are the signs by which you can nearly always tell a drinking man?

Verses 31-32—What evil is likely to result if any, when a good man who does not drink, stands at the bar and "looks" on, while his companions are drinking?

What can you say of a man who will not drink himself but treats others?

How would you characterize a temperance man who votes for a man, or a party, pledged to support the liquor traffic?

How many evils can you trace to strong drink?

Think of all the popular habits that tend to evil, and compare them with the evils of the drink habit, and say which habit, is the greater to the nation?

What is the fascination, which draws so many thousands, of victims to the drink habit?

If the country towns and cities, were overrun with "serpents" and "adders," which were biting and causing the death of thousands, what steps would likely be taken to eradicate the plague?

Seeing that all practically admit that the evils of the liquor traffic, are more virulent than "serpents and adders" could be, how do you explain the apathy of the nation in getting rid of this monster evil? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verse 33—Does licentiousness and impurity of thought, generally accompany the appetite for strong drink, as this verse seeme to suggest?

Verses 34-35—Does drinking always produce moral, as well as physical anaesthesia, deadening the soul to the foulest crimes?

Men under the influence of alchol are often grievously hurt, sometimes almost frozen to death, and are unconscious of the hurt at the time, and when they get better keep on drinking. How do you account for it?

This is the most dangerous time of the year to catch cold, and it is the hardest time to cure it. If you should take a cold, a few doses of kidney's Laxative Cough Syrup will act very promptly. Its laxative principle cures the cold by driving it from the system by a gentle but natural action of the bowels. Children especially like Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup, as it tastes so good nearly like maple sugar. It is sold by all dealers.

Birth-marks which mark and mar the outside of the body are a grief to every mother whose child may bear them. But for every child who bears a birth-mark on the skin there are many who bear an indelible birth-mark on the mind. Nervous mothers have nervous children and many a man and woman owes an irritable and despondent temperament to those days of dread when the mother waited the hour of her maternity. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription strengthens the mother for her trial. With strength comes a buoyancy of spirits and quietness of mind, which is one of the happiest gifts a mother can bestow on her offspring. By giving vigor and elasticity to the delicate womanly organs "Favorite Prescription" practially does away with the pain of maternity and makes the baby's advent as natural and as simple as the blossoming of a flower. No opium or alcohol in "Favorite Prescription." All ingredients printed on bottle wrapper. Is not a secret or patent medicine, but is the open prescription of an educated and experienced physician

The net earnings of the corporations were $91,847,711, a decrease of $69,116,963 from the year of 1907.

The report further shows that $16,965,181 was appropriated for depreciation, replacement and extinguishment funds, together with sinking funds on bonds of subsidiary companies, which is a decrease of $10,754,563 from 1907. The interest on bonds outstanding and sinking funds of the corporation was $29,2447,851, an increase of $1,250,001 over the previous year.

The report shows that nothing was set aside during the year for additional construction, against $54,000,000 in 1907. The surplus for the year after payment of interest charges, dividends, appropriations and all other charges was $10,342,986, a decrease of $4,836,851 from 1907.

Reports in Wall street have it that within a few days the Steel corporation will order a reduction of 15 or 20 per cent in the wages of its employes, to go into effect on April 15.

Prior to the panic the Steel corporation had in its employ about 250,000 men. Making Good Makes Friends

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good"; and Dr. Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.
A good, honest square-deal medicine of known composition is

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that came into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is as good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for. Don't buy

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments.

It makes weak women strong, sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago.

As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine it is unequaled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy. They regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

The Record in Bellefonte is a Unique One.

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ill and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanently. Bellefonte citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

Mrs. Emma J. Davis of E. Logan St. Bellefonte, Pa. says; I have a great deal of confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills, and have already recommended them in a published testimonial in 1897. I told how I had been relieved of kidney complaint and backache which had kept me suffering for years. Doan's Kidney Pills did this for me when other remedies had failed. Whenever I feel any symptom of my old trouble I send to F. Potts Green's drug store for a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills and it never requires more than a few doses to get me right."

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label, if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good!! Hereafter for this very reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

KILLS COUPLE AND HIMSELF

Arrest For Assault Caused Triple Tragedy.

CHOOSE SPEEDY VENGEANCE

Woodman, Temporarily Released From Custody, Shoots His Neighbors and Kills Himself In Their Home—The Slayer Was Indicted Four Times For Various Degrees of Assault.

Oil City, Pa., March 20.—The dead bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Briggs, with holes from Winchester rifle bullets in their breasts, were found at their home, ten miles east of Tionesta, Forest county. The body of Amos Walton, a neighbor, was found in the house with his head almost blown off. It is believed Walton killed Briggs and his wife and then committed suicide. Walton was fifty years old. Mr. and Mrs. Briggs were each thirty-five years old.

Recently Walton beat a son of Briggs, who made information against him before a justice of the peace at Marienville, charging assault and battery. Walton was placed in the custody of a constable. The hearing was to have taken place Friday. Walton asked permission of the constable to return home that he might secure witnesses, and the request was granted. He went to his home, took a forty-eight caliber Winchester rifle and was seen going to the Briggs residence. The body of Briggs was found near a barn, from which he was evidenly coming when killed. Mrs. Briggs was killed in the kitchen of her home, and the body of Walton was found on a chair in another room.

Both men were woodsmen, and Walton has been indicted four times for various degrees of assaults upon people.

SAVED POOR MAN'S LIFE

Easton Iron Master Pulled Drowning Man From Water.

Easton, Pa., March 20.—B. F. Fackenthal, Jr., president of the Thomas Iron company, and one of the foremost iron masters in the United States, saved a poor man from drowning in the Lehigh canal below this city. Mr. Fackenthal was on his way to his office, when he saw the man floundering in the water. He stopped his automobile and, running to the bank of the canal, dragged the half unconscious man from the water and rushed him to the Easton hospital.

The man, a stranger, said he had not eaten in three days, and that when he fell into the water he was so weak he could not swim.

ALMSHOUSE BURNED

Eighteen Bedridden Inmates Carried to Places of Safety.

Gardiner, Me., March 20.—With the flames roaring against the rear wall of the building, eighteen bedridden inmates of the city almshouse were carried to places of safety by the attendants, and half an hour later the building was in ashes. The fire started in an ell and within a few minutes had extended to the main building, but the attendants hurriedly marched out those who could walk and carried out the aged and infirm.

TOO OLD FOR THE DEEP

Jersey Fisherman Rather Than Go to Sea Again Takes Gas.

Atlantic City, March 20.—Leaving 35 cents, all the money he possessed, as a legacy to a lodging house keeper who had treated him kindly, John Stickney, of Holly Beach, a Swedish fisherman, ended his life by gas. Stickney was sixty-four years old, and his age was rapidly incapacitating him for the arduous life of a deep-sea fisherman.

Died of His Wounds.

Altoona, Pa., March 20. — Joseph Harris, who was wounded when Albert Deatto shot and killed Mrs. Annie Briney in this city on March 1, died in the Altoona hospital. Deatto escaped with a conviction of murder in the second degree for killing Mrs Briney and was sentenced to twelve years in the western penitentiary. It is probable that he will have to stand trial for the death of Harris.

His Mind Blank For Three Years.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 20.—J. J. Driscoll, sixty-six years old, who says his home is in Brockton, Mass., and that he has been wandering for three years with his mind a blank, suddenly came to his senses while walking along Spring street. NEW CURE FOR LIQUOR HABIT

Doctor Says Eat a Vegetable Diet For Six Months.

Washington, March 20—"If you have a strong appetite for King Alcohol and tobacco and want to be cured of the habit just eat a vegetable diet for six months."

This was the advice given by Dr. D. H. Kress, of this city, in an address entitled "Dyspepsia and Its Relation to Inebriety," before the American Society for the Study of Alcohol and Other Drug Narcotics. He discussed the evil effects of an excessive diet and declared that overeating leads to drunkenness. "If you would not become a drunkard," said Dr. Kress, "then quit eating meat."

ANTI-LIQUOR LEAGUE WINS

Election Contest Decided and Lynchburg, Va., Saloons Remain Closed.

Lynchburg, Va., March 20.—Judge Christian decided the contest of the election held here in December in favor of the Anti-Saloon league, and the saloons, which closed March 5, will remain closed at least two years. One result of the "dry" victory is that not a drunken man has been arrested for eleven days.

A NOVEL CONTEST ABOUT DRINKING

Rev. Munhall's Defi to Moderate User of Liquor Accepted.

Philadelphia, March 20.—The novel spectacle of two men, aged sixty-four and sixty-five years respectively, cavorting around on an athletic field to determine whether the total abstainer or the moderate drinker is the better athlete, will probably soon be seen, for the sweeping challenge issued by Rev. Dr. L. W. Mulhall before the Methodist Episcopal conference to any moderate drinker between the ages of twenty-one and sixty-four years to meet him in a series of ten athletic events, has been accepted. The man who accepts is Philip Cummings, aged sixty-five years, who admits that he takes as high as twelve or fifteen drinks every day of his life.

Dr. Mulhall is sixty-four years of age and a total abstainer, and it was during a strong temperance lecture that he delivered his challenge.

The events will consist of standing broad jump, running broad jump, running, hop, skip and jump, putting ten-pound shot, throwing sixteen-pound hammer, fifty yards dash, five-mile walk, heel and toe.

Five mile swim, from Ocean Pier Ocean Grove, either up or down the coast. This is to take place in July or August.

Handling fifty pound dumbbell in various exercises.

J., March 20.—Play was begun here today in the international cable chess match between students of American universities and the students representing the English universities of Oxford and Cambridge. The American colleges represented are Columbia, Pennsylvania, Princeton and Harvard.

There are six players on each side. The prize is the Isaac L. Rice trophy, now held in this country. It was won by the American students last year by the score of 3½ to 2½.

SAYS TEACHER STRUCK HER

Young Woman Held In $100 Bail at Trenton.

Trenton, N. J., March 20.—Miss Meta Dennis, a school teacher of Hamilton township, adjoining this city, was arrested on a charge of inflicting corporeal punishment on a girl pupil. The complaint was made by the pupil's mother. The girl claims that the teacher struck her, but Miss Dennis denies the charge, saying she only took hold of the girl. Miss Dennis was held in $100 bail to await the action of the grand jury.

Tanks Burst, Flood City, Kill Two.

Parkersburg, W. Va., March 20. — Two lives were lost, five persons were seriously injured and a property loss estimated at $225,000 was caused when the two iron tanks on Prospect Hill, holding the city's entire water supply of 2,000,000 gallons collapsed. Thirty residences were partially or entirely demolished as the torrent rushed down the steep hillside 200 feet high. St. John's Lutheran church, recently completed at a cost of $15,000, was completely demolished.

Would Tax Deadly Weapons.

Washington, March 20. — A novel way of raising revenue was proposed in the house by Representative Sisson, of Mississippi. It is provided in a bill he introduced that a tax of $2 be levied on every deadly weapon, such as pistols, dirk knives and brass knuckles, manufactured and sold within the United States.

Heavy Blast Caused Landslide.

Williamsport, Pa., March 20. — A heavy blast in a quarry just east of Delmatia sent tons of earth and rock down upon the Pennsylvania railroad, covering both main tracks and tying up all traffic. It was necessary to construck a temporary track around the slide to relieve the blockade.

LIVELY FIGHT ON TARIFF AHEAD

Party Lines Will Be Eliminated in the House.

HOME INTERESTS COME FIRST

Minority Members of Committee Won't Report a Separate Bill Unless "Gag" Rule Is Used to Prevent Amendments—Inheritance Tax, Philippine Free Trade and Maximum and Minimum Features of Bill Endorsed by Democrats.

Washington, March 19.—That party lines will be eliminated during the consideration in the house of the Payne tariff bill was indicated by the action of Representative Broussard, of Louisiana, in withdrawing from the meeting of the minority members of the committee because he differed with their views on the tariff.

With few exceptions each member of the house will fight for the interests of his home district. There is little prospect of any lengthy general debate on the bill, and the consideration of the measure under the five-minute rule for amendment will be proceeded with as soon as possible. The bill was officially reported to the house and is now ready for consideration.

Unless a "gag" rule for the prevention of unlimited amendment under the five-minute rule is brought in, the minority members of the ways and means committee will not report a separate bill. Their report will be drafted by Minority Leader Clark, and will severely criticise the wool schedule in the new bill. It is contended by the Democrats that it has not been cut sufficiently to place it on a revenue basis. There probably will be numerous amendments offered, and heated discussions affecting them are anticipated.

Features Endorsed by Democrats.

The inheritance tax, Philippine free trade, internal revenue and maximum and minimum features of the new bill are endorsed by the minority leaders, and there has been much favorable comment upon the measure by Democratic congressmen. Champ Clark declared that he had not had sufficient time to look into its provisions to enable him to comment upon them. It is understood that the minority leaders favor the removal of the restrictions on the quantity of sugar and tobacco that can be admitted from the Philippines free of duty. On the other hand, several southern Democrats are endeavoring to have the free trade provision amended so as to exclude rice, their contention being that rice could be sent from the Philippines to the United States markets and sold for 2 cents a pound, if admitted free from the islands. This, they say, would ruin the rice industry in this country.

A number of Democrats will join with some Republicans in favoring the continuation of the duty assessed by the Dingley bill upon lumber. The fight for free lumber will be headed by Champ Clark. It is not thought there will be any serious opposition to the tariff placed on tea.

SCHWAB HITS TARIFF BILL

Too Drastic and Likely to Reduce the Status of Labor, He Says.

Detroit, Mich., March 19. — "The Payne tariff bill is too drastic. The iron and steel schedules should not have been altered," declared Charles M. Schwab here.

"Labor will find itself adjusted to the changed schedules. The only cost that enters into manufacture is the cost of labor. Remove the protection from steel and you reduce the status of the laborer. In European steel mills women wheel the coke. We can compete with the world on this basis, too. It is all a question of labor in the end."

"Then you do not agree with your friend, Mr. Carnegie?" he was asked.

"Mr. Carnegie was like a father to me. I will not take issue with him on any question," replied Mr. Schwab.

Two Chicago Views.

Chicago, March 19.—The new tariff bill is welcomed as a blessing and also regarded as a menace in various industrial circles of Chicago.

Eugene J. Buffington, president of the Illinois Steel company, sees a blight for the steel industry if the measure is enacted with contemplated provisions. J. Harry Selz says the shoe industry will flourish like a bay tree if hides are put on the free list.

Oil Men Up In Arms.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 19.—In the interest of the oil producers of this section, the Chamber of Commerce has sent a telegram to Senator Flint, urging that the present duty on petroleum and its products be retained in the new tariff bill.

Ruinous to Lumber Trade.

Norfolk Va., March 19.—E. C. Fosburgh, president of the North Carolina Pine association, controlling a majority of the mills in eastern Virginia, Maryland, North and South Carolina, declared here that the 50 per cent reduction on lumber proposed by the new tariff bill will be ruinous to lumber manufacturers and mills generally on the entire Atlantic coast.

TRAGEDIES AT ATLANTIC CITY

Two Suicides, a Probable Murder and Sudden Death at Seashore Resort.

Atlantic City, March 22.—Two suicides, a probable murder and a sudden death made a tragic opening of spring here. Paul Stoehrle, owner of a barber shop on Atlantic avenue, was found dead in a barber chair. Gas was flowing from three burners of a gas stove, and the man is believed to have committed suicide while despondent.

St. Claire Pride, a negro waiter, shot himself through the heart after a family quarrel.

Joseph Proffett stabbed Joseph Murray through the heart during a street quarrel at Michigan and Arctic avenues. Surgeons took four stitches in Murray's heart and he has a slight chance for recovery.

Robert Roberts, agen seventy years of Belleview, Pa., dropped dead on the boardwalk at Kentucky avenue from heart failure. The tragedy caused a panic among the thousands of promenaders.

REJECT WAGE CUT

Ironworkers Decide to Fight Proposed Reduction.

Reading, Pa., March 22.—A convention of iron workers of the eastern district was held here and it was unanimously decided to reject the proposed reduction in wages submitted by the Reading Iron company. The scale, which is scheduled to go into effect on March 29, reduces the wages of puddlers from $4.50 to $3.75 a ton. The reduction would affect 3000 employes.

ROOSEVELT INSPECTS SUITE ON STEAMER

Visits Vessel That Will Carry Him to Naples.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 22.—Happy in the prospect of his departure tomorrow morning for his long planned African 'safari" or hunting trip, ex President Theodore Roosevelt was the soul of good humor yesterday at his home in Sagamore Hill, where the members of his family gathered for a final reunion before the long journey to the jungle. Those present besides Mr. Roosevelt and his wife were Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Ethel Roosevelt Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Archie Kermit and Quentin Roosevelt.

This morning Mr. Roosevelt went to Hoboken to inspect his quarters on the steamer which will carry him to Naples and see that his personal baggage is safely cared for. He declared he will make no statement on any subject and that any appearing as coming from him will be false.

The intelligence that many packages had been received at the pier from various friends containing everything from an assortment of pills to cure all the evils that flesh is heir to in the jungle, to ammunition and guns caused Mr. Roosevelt to exclaim: "I might say now that I have engaged all my equipment and I won't take them. I won't even look at them. It's no use to send those things to me."

SURGERY CURES BAD BOY

Youth Made Incorrigible by Accident Made Gentle by Knife.

Pottsville, Pa., March 22—Two years ago George Rommel, the fifteen-year-old son of August Rommel, while coasting, crashed into a telegraph pole and crushed in his skull. It was at first thought he would die, but he recovered, though with the return of his health he became incorrigible.

The young man was a terror to the community, being always in some sort of prank. After a consultation of prominent surgeons young Rommel was operated upon and a piece of skull bone, which was pressing on the brain, was removed.

He has just been discharged from the hospital and is home again, entirely free from his former traits, being as gentle as a lamb.

MINE EXPLOSION KILLS FIVE

Accident In Indiana Coal Mine Spreads Death and Terror.

Evansville, Ind., March 22. — Five men were killed and a score injured in an explosion at the Sunnyside coal mines, near this city. The explosion was caused by an overcharge of powder in a shot touched off by one of the miners. The dead were all killed by sulphuric fumes which followed the shot. The mine was swept as if by a whirlwind.

Mother Found Dead In Bed.

Millville, N. J., March 22. — "Mother won't wake up and I shook her hard," cried the five-year-old son of Mrs. Richard Slimmer in front of his home. A neighbor went into the Slimmer house, 319 Broad street, and found the woman dead, with her head buried in a pillow.

Battleship Workmen Killed.

Barrow-in-Furness, Eng., March 22. — A gangway connecting the battleship Vanguard with the wharf at the Vickers Son-Maxim yard collapsed. Many workmen were precipitated to the dock. Three of the workmen were killed and forty injured.

KIDNAPPERS ARE SLY

Failed to Go For Money Deposited In Park With Police Watching.

Cleveland, O., March 22.—After failing in an attempt to negotiate a settlement for the return of his kidnapped son, Willie, in a park at Ashtabula, P. Whitla has returned to his home in Sharon, Pa.

Mr. Whitla was instructed in a letter from the kidnappers to leave $10,000 in Flatiron park Saturday night. If no detectives were about, the kidnappers promised, they would secure the money and deliver the boy safely to the father in a hotel at Ashtabula at 3 o'clock Sunday morning. Whitla deposited the money as requested, but the Ashtabula police learned of the plans to pay the ransom and went to the park. The kidnappers are supposed to have seen them, for at 3 o'clock the money was intact and no a man had approached the spot at which it had been left.

Whitla had a score of detectives in readiness in this city to start a search for the kidnappers as soon as he had safely secured the boy.
